Learn how to contribute content on Assima's Collaborative Platform

This course provides essential learning for Vimago users who will be responsible for content creation, management and deployment in Assima's cloud-based collaborative platform. Following a typical business scenario, participants will create, import, manage and deploy a variety of content types, ready for end user consumption. They will also learn how to report on content and user activity. Through the use of our virtual training labs, participants will be able to practise their skills in a live online learning environment, with personal help and guidance from our certified virtual instructors.
